

Facial Trauma Post Exam

1. The article defines facial trauma as injury to the face because of genetics.
  - a. True
  - b. False

2. The most common cause of facial trauma is motor vehicle crashes.
  - a. True
  - b. False

3. Facial trauma is generally very easy to take care of in the emergency room.
  - a. True
  - b. False

4. The facial skeleton is divided into four parts.
  - a. True
  - b. False

5. Facial Trauma is only classified as penetrating or blunt in origin.
  - a. True
  - b. False

6. Evaluation starts with taking pictures of the injuries for your own personal collection.
  - a. True
  - b. False

7. Facial structures should be inspected for deformity only.
  - a. True
  - b. False

8. Enophthalmos is defined as a protruding eyeball.
  - a. True
  - b. False

9. The most important aspect of prehospital care in facial trauma is the maintenance of a clear airway.
  - a. True
  - b. False

10. Most patients with facial trauma must be assumed, until proven other wise, to have sustained cervical spine trauma.
  - a. True
  - b. False